The Grid Gunner has been a long time coming. The game has been in development since 2008 and we're proud to finally release the full game. In the beginning stages of development, we were actively looking for the right studio to help make Grid Gunner a reality. Flash Develop has always been our developers' choice of software and we feel they are extremely proficient and have a great attention to detail. We also wanted to take advantage of the features available in Flash Builder 4.6 - most importantly Flex and MXML, allowing us to quickly create animations and user interface using the rich ActionScript 3 language. I also wanted to make use of the IntelliJ Plugin for Flex and MXML - it's a powerful tool which allows you to quickly create the user interface of your game. In addition, it takes away a great deal of the tedium of setting up your game's user interface. Greetings, Armello audience! Armello is a strategic role-playing game with card and dice-based combat, set in a beautiful, vibrant world with multiple persistent endings. Armello is a game for everyone, with a unique card-based combat system reminiscent of the old school "dexterity" genre of games and board games, along with a dynamic turn-based strategy game featuring all-new board-game like mechanics (eg. march to victory, wu shu, roman numerals). Armello was crowdfunded on Kickstarter and our beta goal was $500,000. We managed to raise more than $1.2 million. We ended up reaching over $1.8 million. We've been working very hard with our publishing partners and are very excited for the launch of Armello! ○You can choose from a range of heroes and engage in turn-based fights and adventures. ○Use card-based tactics and the enemies' weaknesses to plan your attacks and finish your fights. ○Hire a trusted companion and learn their skills, use them to get precious loot and save the world! ○Cross the road with your companions and use their unique skills to master the most complex situations. ○Recruit a house of cards and engage in the dynamic daily life of the Armello world. ○Build up your Deck of Cards and defeat your enemies! Play a mystery game as you follow the hunter as he goes deeper into the deep forest. Your mission is to find the missing automaton and stop it! Explore three worlds and find the keys to unlock the doors and escape the increasingly complex automaton. But be careful, some are hostile. And if you get it wrong, you will get killed! Fast, fun and easy to play but difficult to master. Each puzzle is unique and contains a tree of 15+ levels with the goal to keep your score high. Perfect for all ages. Here are some hints for basic gameplay: •

A blue arrow points to an important door. Move your hunter to find these doors. They contain various bonuses and keys. • The hunter is on a quest for finding the missing automaton. In order to discover its whereabouts you have to spot all five clues given by the automaton. Every clue is marked by a red arrow and leads to a door. • Sometimes the hunter can grab the keys and doors at any time. You can only move the hunter for a limited time (arrows). If you need to move the hunter, select the right key to unlock the door. Features: • Three unique worlds and an inventory with over 15+ levels • Easy to understand and easy to play, but hard to master • Puzzles are different in every run and some are very hard • Various levels, bonus and power-ups • Three different difficulty settings: Easy, Normal and Hard • Original soundtrack • Various trophies and achievements • Store leaderboard and game statistics The game is free but offers optional purchases with several bonus items like: Pasqualli Pasqualli is an Italian surname. Dead Space 3 if you like what I am and can afford it, or leave the website right now Hiya folks! I need your help. Hope you like pretty videos and talented women. Hope that is enough to get you here, but really, I don't even care what you like any more. I care if you like me or not. That's it. The Ubuntu live streams that occur during Developer Summit apparently give me the hives and I can't watch them. lol. I get so angry that I want to crawl into a hole. I apologize, Chris. Sometimes I get so silly when I don't get my sleep. :-(The reset button don't work when I get off my lazy *. In my poenitentiary cell, there are 12 orange cardboard boxes of unread magazines that I finally schedule to read through all the way at the end of each month. They are in a pile at the end of my bed like sacrifices. lol. I think...I think I'm a little lonely but won't admit it. I'm slow to make new friends as my life did a 180 into happiness.

Sadly, I spent the past year living in a very small bubble of creativity. It didn't get me any good. It got me a lot of anger. At myself. My mom. And as usual, the world. So I want to go a different direction than the faint whisper of what life used to be. I want to take a full bold step, not only physically as a Cyclon and not just a PC gamer to gather more friends, but mentally. I want to know how impossible it is to be a monster instead of an example of me. Not looking for friends from other games or from where I come from. I need friends from MY imagination. I want friends born of my own fears and doubts, of my own thoughts, dreams and soul of purity. That's when enemies are made. That's when things get really interesting. When my public, my army, and my controllers are people I can turn to for the friendship I crave. The next year will be the ending of this section of my life. The rest of my days will hopefully be about more of myself and the life of creativity I want and need. May I have your support as a stranger? That's all I ask.

Friendship. lol
