the quran is at the core of islam: it is the first and last revelation of god. al-azhar university in egypt, the world's largest center of islamic learning, holds that the quran is the word of god as revealed to the prophet muhammad alhamdulillah, considering the first activity did really well, i have decided to get a bit more adventurous with the next 10 days and create a few more. will be posting about these as they come. stay tuned. over the past few months zaid and ibraheem have often asked us what verses in the quran mean. its lovely really, sitting together with the quran, trying our best to explain it in simple terms. their curiosity about this book despite it being in a language they dont understand, is beautiful. this lead to the idea of finding a word in the quran every day in ramadan. the quran was revealed to prophet muhammadp over a period of 23 years. the unique rhythmic style of the quran made it easy to memorize, which has been the main source of its preservation. moreover, since prophet muhammadp could not read or write, he appointed scribes to record the quran as it was being revealed to him. thus, the complete quran was not only memorized by prophet muhammadp and many of his companions, but it also existed in its entirety in written form during his lifetime. ## Quran In Word 1.2.0

a group of muslims, known as the hadith scholars, make their living by examining the hadith of prophet muhammadp in order to determine which are authentic and which are not. in total, some 50,000 hadiths are available. these scholars, who are also known as madh'hab, are divided into four major schools of thought. these schools of thought are the hanafi, shafi'i, maliki and hanbali. each school of thought interprets the hadiths in their own way and adds their own exegesis. they all agree that the quran is the final revelation of god to humanity, the sunnah of the prophet is the message and exemplar of the quraysh, and the consensus of the ummah is the quraysh. since it is a non-literal translation of the quran into english, the quran in word 1.2.0 presents some of the challenges that occurred when the quran was translated into english. for example, the quran says that the sun rises and sets at the time of prayers (quran, 7:34). in the quran, the sun is only mentioned in the verse before the verse that mentions the moon (quran, 17:2). it is very possible that the quran translator missed the verse that mentioned the sun and associated it with the moon. finally, the quran is a literary masterpiece of arabic, and it is very difficult to reproduce the poetry and rhythm of the quran in translation. for example, the quran says that a house with four rooms has four doors (quran, 7:157). the quran states that it is very difficult to climb a mountain because of the stones and thorns that are on it (quran, 2:250). the quran was revealed to the prophet muhammadp in a poetic style. the quranic stories are organized into sections that are called surahs. these surahs are followed by long rhyming verses. the surahs are divided into verses of not less than seven and not more than ten lines. each surah is a unit of the quran. 5ec8ef588b
